Overview:

There are a number of areas of the college that provide services to college employees and the community at large for a fee. In most cases, the services provided are linked to a particular curriculum and are part of the academic program. These services are typically limited in scope and are minimal in cost when compared to similar community services. There are also some service fees charged for selected non-academic areas of the college. These fees are usually collected at the time the service is offered.

The following links reflect the current programs involved the scope of services and the applicable fee schedule.
